

I disagree with allowing technician class operators "limited" ssb privileges. I would agree to "cw" subbands like novice class had though. Operating procedures can be learned on vhf and there is "SSB" privileges there! Operator proficiency and learning code slows the process of advancement, but this is a needed delay and builds quality within the operators. If you work for it,,,you appreciate it more!

Marc W0WCH